HOG CHOLERA IS FOUND AT AVALON

New Outbreak of Disease Discovered in Rock County.

Hog cholera on several farms near Avalon was reported Tuesday by Dr. C. F. Threlkeld, Madison, called to Rock County on several calls. At the farm of H. Krebs, 10 hogs have died from the disease and others are afflicted.

It was reported that a number of hogs died recently on the John Threlkeld farm, across the road, but it is not known for certain that these were afflicted with cholera. Warning signs have been posted on the farms and a quarantine is being enforced.

The hogs had been promptly vaccinated and full treatment taken to cure the remainder of the herd.

County farmers in the vicinity should take prompt notice of the outbreak, declared Threlkeld. Vaccination is the only safe and reliable means of preventing the disease and a guarantee that it will not spread to a dangerous degree.

HEALTH OFFICER SOUNDS APPEAL FOR CLEANING UP

By DR. FRED B. WELCH, Head of City Health Dept.

Now is the time to prepare for summer work.

To remove the rubbish from your yard, back yard and surroundings. To eliminate from your premises all accumulations of all kinds of refuse. To ventilate the cellar and paint up the buildings.

To inspect your sewage can. If it is dirty, clean it with plenty of soap and hot water and let it drain. If it does not comply with the city ordinance, purchase another that does. There is nothing that speaks as well of community sanitation as sanitary sewage can.

To put plenty of lime in the outside drains and make them fly and vermin proof for the coming summer. Health and decency demand it.

Nature will soon have her part in making things beautiful, so let us swing into line with the spirit of sanitation and eliminate all things which are unsightly and detrimental to good health.

TWO MORE TRUCKS BOUGHT BY CITY

One Police Car and Old Roadster Traded in for New Equipment.

Two new Chevrolet dump trucks are added to the equipment of the city street forces through a deal completed by city manager Henry Traylor, Tuesday, with the R. W. Motor Sales company, Janesville, increasing the total number of trucks in this service to six. The trucks were obtained by the payment of $1,325 and a trade-in of one of the police Chevrolet touring cars and a 1919 Buick roadster of the fire department, formerly used as a chief's car. The sale price of the new trucks is $240 each, or a total of $1,880.

The trucks are to be equipped with the hand-hoist dump bodies instead of the gravity hoist, as it is said the latter type has been found impracticable on the heaviest trucks. Through a trade deal effected with the Stoughton body company, the city manager announced, two of the gravity hoist trucks bought last fall will be changed over to the hand-hoist type without cost to the city.

The two new trucks are needed because of the big storm sewer program and other work planned this summer. Mr. Traylor said. If the city wants to retain the old Buick roadster it can do so by paying the R. W. company $25.

9-MILE PAVING PROGRAM ASSURED AS COUNCIL ACTS

on street over which his lines operate, and "not as far as that," was the report given to the council by city Manager Henry Traxler who with City Attorney Roger E. Ninham recently visited the officers of that company a visit at Rockford. Definite word as to what the city may rely upon the traction company to do, is expected by the end of this week, Mr. Traxler said. The most interesting phase of the conference reported by Mr. Traxler was that the traction company is contemplating abandoning the Washington street-cemetery line and substituting busses.

They talked as though they would abandon the Washington street line and put busses up there," Mr. Traxler told the council. "The only reason they wouldn't abandon the Washington street line too is that they have permanent improvements out there." Councilman George Jacobs raised the question of whether the traction company would be allowed to continue one part of the line and not the other.

Year Paving Complaints.
Most of the two-hour session was spent by the council in listening to and answering complaints relative to assessments for the paving program, the meeting being the final opportunity for property owners to register a protest. It was explained to several that what has been done was according to law and not necessarily the sentiment of the council.

Most of the complaint was dissatisfaction with the amount allowed as a rebate on property where the curb and gutter had already been placed, the contention of several being that it should be on the maximum basis of $3 a square yard and not what it had cost at the time it was constructed. It was pointed out that the city was complying with the state law.

Two Assured Adjustments.
An adjustment was promised two property owners on Monroe street who had been allowed 50 cents a foot instead of 70 cents as they maintained it had cost them. City Engineer C. V. Kerch explained that the amount allowed on various streets had been arrived at through using the price at which contracts were let by the city, as the basis. Mrs. Belle Dickson was the speaker in reference to this matter.

Others who made complaint or asked for explanations concerning the paving project were: George Davis, L. F. Anger, Ida Peira, W. B. Sullivan, Dr. M. A. Cunningham, W. H. Albert, Charles Wiley, Ed. Donahue, and Charles Newton.

The special assessment schedule of $493,000 is expected to be reduced pro rata when the final bill for paving is handed in by the contractor. The property owners to be given the benefit of any reduction from the estimated cost.

Want Jackson St. Widened.
Six of the eight owners of the property abutting on South Jackson street in the block running from Eastern avenue towards the bridge petitioned the council to have it permanently improved as a 72-foot wide street instead of 46 feet as planned, agreeing to assume their share of the additional cost. Those who signed the petition are P. O. Samuels, David Mark, John James Gregory, E. L. Hoyer, M. M. Rashid and Francis Hayes.

The council evidenced a desire to comply with the petition, especially where such progress has been shown by property owners, but is blocked from complying with it because two owners of the property have not agreed to the plan. The only method which can be used to assure the 72-foot width in this block, it was declared, is for the six to agree to assume the additional amount which ordinarily would be borne by the two property owners dissenting from the proposition. This may be done.

Without making any change in the assessments, the council, upon motion of Councilman Gibbons, unanimously approved the report of the board of public works.

A. J. Gibbons Wishes Success.
Bonds of all officers elected at the municipal spring election were accepted and ordered placed on file.

In a note befitting the occasion, and one auguring well for the future assumed by others who retire in the future from the city's governing body, Mr. Gibbons sang his "swan song" as the time came for adjournment sine die.

"I have been long enough in the work to become intimately acquainted with it and feel it will be only a cessation of scheduled activities," Mr. Gibbons said, when asked how he felt. "I will continue an active interest in city affairs and will help you in any way I can. I wish you a successful term of office and hope that your efforts meet with the success that they deserve and that you move forward and onward as you have in the past."

President Jensen, in thanking Mr. Gibbons upon behalf of the other members for his remarks, praised the attitude assumed by Mr. Gibbons in his promise to take a lively interest in city affairs, coming as it did from the first to "graduate" from the managerial council. Mr. Jensen expressed the hope that such a spirit may be evidenced by those who follow in the future so that there will be a substantial alumni to be a real source of help to the council. The council thereupon adjourned sine die.
